final resolution

article agrees to move to the 4001 Berri building and join the artistic hub, based on the following conditions:

- article is provided a ground floor space with a gallery, which includes a front-facing vitrine visible to the outside of the building, and an office space which is connected to the gallery.
- The building as a whole is completely wheelchair accessible and has automatic doors at the main entry.
- Accessibility for many other disabilities is included in the design of the building, including but not limited to: dimmable lights in all spaces, automatic doors inside of the building wherever possible, and HVAC air filtration systems.
- The building's Board of Directors implement a Charter of Values which outline anti-oppressive commitments, and which each occupant must adopt as an organisation.
- The building's Board of Directors must create policies which address conflict resolution, mediation, and outline clear consequences should any occupant be in violation of the Charter of Values.
- The building's Board of Directors must reserve one seat for someone who represents the disabled community and has a respected voice in shaping the building's accessibility policies.

Thanks
